DICK SCHMIDT EXPLORES WIDE-RANGE TOPICS THIS MONTH ON DAYTON 22

"RSVP"

Sunday, November 23, 1975, 5:00 p.m.

For Immediate Release

On this month's new Community Affairs/Special Events program, "RSVP", WKEF's Dick Schmidt focuses on four topics of interest to the Dayton community and surrounding area. In the first segment, entitled "Holden House Revisited", Dick conducts a follow-up report to his documentary, "Dear Hearts and Gentle People" which was first telecast on Dayton 22 Sunday, August 24, 1975. At that time, the problems and concerns of Holden House were brought to light, and now viewers will find out what has been done to correct situations such as maintenance and resident/management relations. Interviewed is the manager of Holden House, Mr. Sonny Allen.

Segment No. 2 is entitled "Dead Dogs". The pet population in the United States increases by 30,000 every day. Many parents say they breed their pets so that their children may learn the miracle of life---should they not also know the miracle of death? Interviewed is Mr. Fred Stroop, Director of the Montgomery County

Humane Society who discusses the over-population of pets with Dick. Also interviewed are veterinarians who discuss birth control for dogs and other aspects of the pet population problem.

In the third segment, what does basketball mean to the University of Dayton and to the Dayton community? Interviewed is Reverend Raymond Roesch, President of the University of Dayton, who talks about the effect of basketball upon enrollment and also financially. Head Basketball Coach Don Donoher, now in his twelfth year as coach, talks about the changes and trends in basketball since he began, and Assistant Basketball Coach Jack Butler, now in his fifth year at the university, discusses recruitment. Is it difficult to recruit a potential Flyer? How actively does the university recruit players? Also interviewed is Dudley Kircher, President of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce and Director of the Dayton Development Council who talks about the effect of U.D. basketball on the community.

The final segment--"Waynesville--A Town of Antiquity". Waynesville, Ohio is the Antique Capitol of Ohio with over 24 antique stores. Dennis Dalton, historian, takes Dick on a tour of the past and present of the town, the different antique store owners, and discusses its meaning economically. Join host Dick Schmidt Sunday, November 23 at 5:00 p.m. for "RSVP" on WKEF-TV Dayton 22. -30-
